

ArtPATHS-Modern Art History

The relationship between design and architectural history

by W.CHEN

© W.CHEN, 2022

www.artpaths.jimdo.com

The relationship between design and architectural history

by W.CHEN

Abstract: The present paper is concentrated on the analysis of the relationship between architectural and design history as a different disciplines with a different distinct institutional and identities in the period of renaissance history of art in Europe. The author tries to explain how architectural and design history evolved in UK and USA since the second world war.

Key words: history of Renaissance, design history, architectural history.